

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my telephone service! I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential customers would bear the same universal service fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone for safety, security and convenience. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

In addition, I'm tired of paying for someone else to have better phone service than I have. It seems like there's static on my phone line half the time or more. SBC won't do a real fix. Furthermore, I'd like high-speed internet service, but can't get it...I live in a rural area. At the same time I pay for schools and libraries, and God knows how many others to have high speed internet service. I'm sick to death of paying your damned taxes so others can have what my family can't.

Sincerely,

David Organ
